Data breach notification form

On this page, we offer data controllers the simple option of reporting a personal data breach in accordance with Article 33 of the GDPR, commonly referred to as a "data breach".

Please note that not every personal data breach leads to a notification obligation under Art. 33 GDPR. The decisive factor is primarily the assumption that the breach leads to a risk to the rights and freedoms of natural persons. Explanations on this and in general on the notification obligation with illustrative practical examples can be found in the guidelines of the European Data Protection Board.

Information that is not marked as mandatory (*) is voluntary but may be useful for processing depending on the case.

Note: If you wish to keep your communication on file, please print it out before sending it.
